Regulatory approach

For industrial and critical facilities within the scope of the Higher Commission for Industrial Security, service planning considers the applicable security, safety, and fire-protection requirements.

Security services shaped around the site.

Security Guarding	Male and female guards, reception posts, visitor organization, gate control, and shift handovers.
Field Supervision	Supervisor rounds, attendance follow-up, post inspections, escalation, and client coordination.
Patrol Services	Scheduled vehicle or motorbike rounds for perimeters, entrances, parking, and priority zones.
Event Security	Entry management, crowd flow, conference and exhibition support, and VIP routes.
Monitoring and Access	Control-room procedures, CCTV support, access permissions, and incident records.
Risk and Site Mapping	Entrances, exits, critical utilities, hazardous areas, emergency routes, and response points.

From site survey to continuous improvement.

1. Survey

Review entrances, movement, priority areas, utilities, risks, and emergency access.

2. Plan

Define posts, shifts, supervision, escalation, patrol routes, and reports.

3. Deploy

Launch qualified personnel with post orders, checklists, and communication channels.

4. Improve

Use incidents, attendance, patrol notes, and feedback to refine the plan.

Sectors served

Hotels and hospitality, retail centers, logistics and warehouses, healthcare, education, corporate facilities, events and exhibitions, and infrastructure projects.
